TABLE OF CONTENTS

Dear friends and colleagues,

Welcome to the 2018 Society for Benefit-Cost Annual Conference and Meeting! We have 42 excellent sessions on a wide range of topics. The presentations reflect the global scope of our field and Society and report research from Canada, China, Côte d'Ivoire, East Africa, the European Union, France, Germany, Haiti, India, Italy, the Netherlands, Sudan, Uruguay, the U.S., and the World Bank. The Society continues to grow and flourish thanks to your support.

In addition to the panels, we hope you enjoy networking at our evening receptions on Wednesday through Friday. At lunch on Thursday we will welcome keynote speaker, Tomas Philipson, Daniel Levin Professor of Public Policy Studies at the University of Chicago Harris School of Public Policy and Member of the White House Council of Economic Advisors. He will speak on "The Economics of the Opioid Epidemic." On Friday morning, we will have a plenary session where Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs Administrators Sally Katzen (1993 – 1997), John Graham (2001 – 2006), Sudan Dudley (2007 – 2009), and Howard Shelanski (2013 – 2017) will share their experience. On Friday over lunch we will have our membership meeting, which will include discussion of our plans for continued growth. Please feel free to contact any of us with your suggestions and ideas.

We are enormously indebted to the members of the 2018 Program Committee, whose hard work contributed to the varied and interesting program:

Daniel Acland (University of California - Berkeley)

Mark Cohen (Vanderbilt University)

Joseph Devlin (Environment and Climate Change Canada)

Mark Dickie (University of Central Florida)

Chris Dockins (U.S. Environmental Protection Agency)

Elisabeth Gilmore (Clark University)

Sandy Hoffmann (U.S. Department of Agriculture)

Margaret Kuklinski (University of Washington)

David Luskin (U.S. Federal Highway Administration)

Kyle Rozema (University of Chicago Law School)

Judy Temple (University of Minnesota)

Emile Quinet (Ecole des Ponts-Paris)

W. Kip Viscusi (Vanderbilt University)

Daniel Wilmoth (U.S. Small Business Administration)

We would also like to thank American Chemistry Council, ExxonMobil and the GWU Regulatory Studies Center for helping to sponsor this conference. We also thank our Organizational Affiliates, Premium Members and individual donors, who are listed on the following pages.

And finally, we would like to thank you, SBCA's members and participants, for your many contributions to the Society, to this conference, and to the field of BCA. We hope that we will see you at future conferences and other Society events.

Job Opening at The Pew Charitable Trusts

The Pew-MacArthur Results First Initiative seeks a technical assistance officer to work with selected state and local governments to help them understand and use evidence, primarily by customizing a benefit-cost model. The officer will also help develop and implement related resources. Candidates should have at least eight years of relevant work experience, knowledge of evaluation methodologies, and demonstrated training or teaching experience.

For more information, please visit pewtrusts.org/careers and search for job ID 2017-5309 or contact sscott@pewtrusts.org.

SOCIETY FOR BENEFIT-COST ANALYSIS

Founded in 2007, the Society is an international organization dedicated to the advancement, exchange of ideas, and research related to benefit-cost analysis (BCA), cost-effectiveness analysis, risk-benefit analysis, applied welfare economic analysis, and damage assessment.

The Society's primary goals are:

- Bring together individuals from diverse disciplines and from different countries and provide them opportunities to foster collaboration and exchange information, ideas, and methodologies;
- Encourage applications of benefit-cost analysis and applied welfare economics, and promote dialogue between practitioners;
- Facilitate the development and dissemination of knowledge about benefit-cost and applied welfare analysis;
- Develop and update standards of practice; and
- Foster methods to improve communication and consideration of benefit-cost methods and results.

The only journal devoted exclusively to benefit-cost analysis, the leading evidence-based analytical method for determining if the consequences of specific public actions make society better off overall.

THE JBCA IS ATTRACTING ATTENTION

- › Council of Economic Advisors 2017 report The Underestimated Cost of the Opioid Crisis cited the 2017 JBCA article by W. Kip Viscusi and Clayton Masterman “Income Elasticities and Global Values of a Statistical Life.”
- › 2017 Economics Report of the President cited the 2016 JBCA article by Timothy Bartik, Brad Hershelein, and Marta Lachowska “The Merits of Universal Scholarships: Benefit-Cost Evidence from the Kalamazoo Promise.”
- › The 2015 article “Estimating the Job Impacts of Environmental Regulation” by Anna Belova, Wayne B. Gray, Joshua Linn, Richard D. Morgenstern was referenced by a 2017 Huffington Post article, cited in two Dutch government policy documents, and on Twitter by the Association of Air Pollution Control Agencies.

SYMPOSIA ON BCA AND PUBLIC POLICY

- › Valuing Mortality Risk Reductions in Low- and Middle Income Countries (Summer 2017)
- › Benefit-Cost Analysis of Policing Practices (Fall 2017)
- › Application of BCA in Europe – Experiences and Challenges (Spring 2018)

BEST ARTICLE FOR 2017

Congratulations to Dennis C. Cory and Lester D. Taylor whose article titled “On the Distributional Implications of Safe Drinking Water Standards” appeared in the JBCA 8,1 (Spring 2017) issue. Upon the recommendation of the Best Article Award Committee, the Editors are pleased to recognize this article as the best of 2017. Committee members Tom Kniesner, Clark Nardinelli, and Fran Sussman offer the following about the article:

The importance of the article is threefold. (1) It provides an empirical example of the complexity of including environmental justice in environmental standards and enforcement. (2) It generally supports the Health-Health analysis view that benefit cost analysis based on short-run potential Pareto improvement can result in policies that, after consumers adjust their expenditures, actually decrease social welfare. (3) This finding may be generalized to benefit-cost analysis of other public policy including nudges.

Editors Glenn C. Blomquist and William H. Hoyt and Managing Editor Mary Kokoski gratefully acknowledge the support of many including Editorial Board members, authors, reviewers, and especially the MacArthur Foundation.

JBCA EDITOR SEARCH TO BE CONDUCTED IN 2018

Glenn Blomquist and Bill Hoyt will be completing their tenure as Editors at the end of 2018. The JBCA will therefore be inviting applications for the editorship of the journal to start in January 2019. Look for a request for proposals from the Society for Benefit-Cost Analysis around July 2018. In the meantime, inquiries may be directed to Lynn Karoly (karoly@rand.org), SBCA Past President and the chair of the JBCA Editor Search Committee.

ANNOUNCING THE SBCA DISSERTATION AWARD

Starting in 2018, the Society for Benefit-Cost Analysis will be making an annual award for the best Ph.D. thesis dealing with the theory and/or practice of benefit-cost analysis. The award is intended to recognize outstanding work by promising new researchers in the field. The award is accompanied by a $1,000 cash prize and the winner will be recognized at the SBCA annual meeting.

The range of topics for candidate dissertations cover those of interest to the SBCA, including both theory and application of economic evaluation methods. Relevant methods include, but are not limited to:

- › Benefit-cost analysis
- › Cost-effectiveness analysis
- › Cost analysis
- › Regulatory impact analysis
- › Disk-benefit analysis
- › Applied welfare economic analysis
- › Samage assessments

Submissions will be due October 1, 2018. A dissertation will be eligible if it was successfully defended in the two years prior to the October 1 application deadline. Eligible dissertations must have been accepted by an accredited institution of higher education in any country in fulfillment of a doctoral degree. The degree field is not limited to economics. Dissertations must be written in English.

For additional information, please see the SBCA website at:

<https://benefitcostanalysis.org/awards-dissertation>

Please share this announcement with interested graduate students and faculty.

For applied research, illustrative substantive areas include:

- › Civil and criminal justice
- › Education and training
- › Energy, natural resources, and environment
- › Finance and financial markets
- › Food and agriculture
- › Health, health insurance, and health care
- › International trade and development
- › Safety and security
- › Social welfare programs
- › Transportation and infrastructure
- › Workforce and workplace

The dissertation may be primarily focused on the theory and/or application of benefit-cost analysis, or it may be contained in a portion of the work (e.g., a subset of the chapters of the dissertation or one paper of a multi-paper dissertation).
